This month, a new distributor will move in to their new offices in the Lakeside Business District.

Maly's, a California based salon products distributor and recognized leader in the beauty supply business, has leased 44,000 square feet in Corporate Ridge building three and it is the company's first Texas distribution center.

"We are very excited that they have chosen Flower Mound as their first Texas location," said Melissa Glasgow, director of economic development for Flower Mound. "It shows that Lakeside is a viable location for new businesses and since Maly's is a distribution firm, they will be taking advantage of several major roads that provide access to that business district."

Glasgow also feels that Maly's will help the town by providing employment opportunities.

"They will provide more employment in the town and they will enhance our tax base and provide diversity in our employment base," she said. "Many people are waiting for new businesses to arrive in Flower Mound, especially in the Lakeside Business District. We are glad to have Maly's in our town."

The company has other distribution centers in California and Oregon as well as more than 100 wholesale store locations throughout the western U.S. For information visit the Web site www.Maly's.com or call 972-874-6045.
