The Flower Mound Town Council voted to approve a site plan for the new Presbyterian Hospital during its regular meeting Oct. 6. The unanimous vote arrived just in time for developers to break ground Oct. 8.

HKS Inc. architect Shannon Kraus thanked city staff for their help in meeting the construction deadline. "We are very excited about the project," he said. According to the site plan, the new hospital will include a helipad, 50-foot buffer along FM 2499 and an outdoor dining area.
